Welcome to Mid Sweden University

Welcome to Mid Sweden University!

At Mid Sweden University, we work continuously to offer a high quality education, our teachers are dedicated and we work hard to increase the students' contact with working life during their studies.

We believe in education that makes an impact. This is why we collaborate closely with the local community, making our resources accessible and bringing challenges from the private and public sectors into the university.

We are proud to play an important role in regional development at the same time as we cultivate and maintain strong links to international research and education.

By welcoming international students, teachers and scholars to our university, we broaden our horizons and enable innovative thinking.

Living in Sweden

Sweden is one of the largest countries in Europe, with great diversity in its nature and climate. Environmental issues, equality and education are important in Sweden, and there is a long tradition of welcoming students from abroad.

A tradition of innovation

Sweden has a proud tradition of innovation and entrepreneurship and it is the home of the Nobel Prize, IKEA, Skype and Spotify. Innovative research at universities and companies has resulted in many successful inventions, such as the pacemaker and the computer mouse. Mid Sweden University keeps that tradition alive through extensive research in a broad range of areas. One example is the Swedish Winter Sports Research Centre, SWSRC, a world leader in ski research that has fostered a series of talented skiers. SWSRC is also an Olympic test centre for winter sports that cooperates with leading companies in the sports and outdoor sector.

Vast seasonal changes

In Sweden, the winters are cold and crisp, and there is enough snow to go skiing, sledging or ice-skating. During the winter, the days are shorter and the sun sets early in the afternoon. You may even see the magnificent northern lights! In the summer, on the other hand, the days are very long and the nights are never dark. The temperature can vary from about minus 20 degrees Celsius in the winter to about plus 25 degrees Celsius in the summer.

– a great place to be a student!

We are a multi-campus university with campuses in the cities of Sundsvall and Östersund. The cities are located approximately 117 miles/188 km apart so all of your courses will be offered at the same campus. Both cities offer a perfect mix of nature and city life. At Mid Sweden University, we have the community of small college combined with the educational variety and resources of a large university. Our programmes collaborate with research and business to benefit society and give you a competitive edge in the global market.

Committed teachers

The teachers at Mid Sweden University care about your individual development and they will support and coach you. Our students appreciate this informality in the contact with teachers and staff. In addition, Mid Sweden University offers students a range of services and support.

Employability

At Mid Sweden University, we know that employability is important to students when they choose a study programme. This is why all our programmes are closely connected with research and business and many of our students do their thesis in collaboration with companies. We offer a range of services to prepare our students for the labour market. Examples of such activities are our Live Challenge, where students are challenged to solve real challenges that a company faces, or Mötesplats Campus, one of the largest career fairs in the region with hundreds of visitors on both campuses. If you are interested in staying and working in Sweden after your studies, we recommend that you learn a little bit of Swedish first. At Mid Sweden university, we offer a free Swedish course to all our international students.

Campus locations

Mid Sweden University is one of the ten largest institutions of higher education in Sweden.

Sundsvall is one of the biggest cities in northern Sweden and popular among students. Several times, Sundsvall has been elected the most student-friendly municipality in Sweden. The city is situated by the coast, framed by mountains both in the south and in the north. The city centre is called Stenstan (the stone city) and it is known for its beautiful late 19th century stone houses in Neo-Renaissance style.

Östersund was elected the most student-friendly municipality in Sweden in 2018.

The city and its surroundings have plenty of recreational activities to offer, such as long distance ice-skating, cross-country skiing and hiking. There are, for instance, more than 10 km of ice-skating and skiing tracks on the nearby lake, Storsjön.

Higher education in Sweden is divided into three levels.

HIGHER VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

A full-time workload is 30 credits per semester and 60 credits per academic year in Sweden.

Applicants apply via the general online application service of all Swedish universities, universityadmissions.se.

The application period opens in the middle of October and ends on 15 January.

Entry requirements

There are both general and specific entry requirements for our international Bachelor's and Master's programmes. Learn more about the entry requirements of our international programmes at miun.se/entryrequirements

English language requirements

Applicants for all international programmes at Mid Sweden University must prove proficiency in English. This can be done by means of an internationally approved English test, such as IELTS or TOEFL. Learn more at universityadmissions.se

Tuition fees and scholarships

In general, citizens of countries outside EU, EEA or Switzerland are required to pay tuition fees for university studies in Sweden.

The tuition fee includes access to campus facilities such as computer labs, the library, study rooms and lecture halls. It also includes student services such as: study and career counselling, Student Health Center, disability services and other study administration. All fee paying students at Mid Sweden University are covered by the FAS+ Insurance issued under the authority of the Swedish Legal, Financial and Administrative Service Agency (Kammarkollegiet). The tuition fee does not include accommodation costs, course literature or living expenses etc.

The tuition fee varies depending on the course or programme. You can find the exact amount of the tuition fee on each programme page when you click on "To application".

For students applying to a master programme at Mid Sweden University, there are a number of options to apply for a scholarship or financial support from the university or other organizations. Learn more at: miun.se/scholarship

Accommodation and Living Costs

The estimated cost of living per month in Sweden is a minimum of SEK 9,450. It includes accommodation, internet/telephone, food and insurance. Mid Sweden University cooperates closely with student housing and recommends five different housing companies in Sundsvall and Östersund. The choice of housing varies, but all types of student accommodation are generally of a high standard. Depending on the area and the type of room, the rent varies from approximately SEK 2500–5000 per month.

The housing companies offer a wide range of accommodation such as student residence halls (dormitory rooms or student flats with single or double rooms), single apartments, shared apartments and cottage apartments. You will find more information about accommodation here: miun.se/accommodation

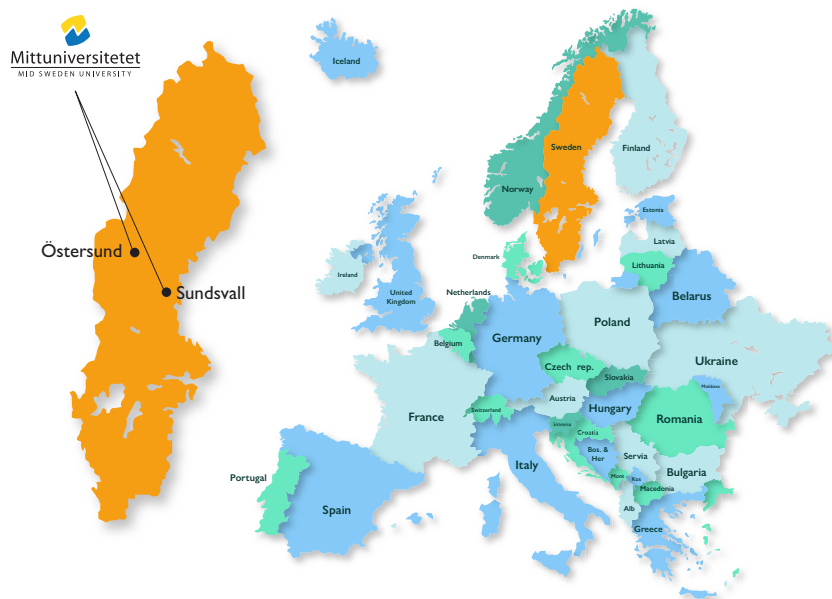

PhD studies

If you are interested in continuing your studies after your Master's degree, we have doctoral positions in many different academic subjects. In Sweden, a PhD position is a paid job, which means that you apply for the position through the university's job portal. There is no tuition related to a PhD position. A PhD degree includes 4 years of full-time studies in one of our research environments.
